

SCOUTS IN NASSAU PLAN CAMP SEASON

Staff Named to Carry Out Wauwepex Program.

Mineola, April 2.—The camping committee of Nassau County Council, Boy Scouts of America, Lucien Stanley chairman, has completed plans for the season at Camp Wauwepex next summer. He announced the committee has given particular thought to an attractive program for the older boys at the camp.

With this end in mind, F. Howard Covey, camp director, will have with him as assistant camp director Irving F. Southworth. Southworth, who was associated with the council many years ago and who, with Chief Covey, was one of the founders of Camp Wauwepex, has recently returned to the county staff. In addition to directing the summer activities at home, Joseph S. Fleming will be in camp part of the time in charge of the rodeo, and Elliott W. Mangam in charge of the Sea Scout program.

Chairman Stanley has appointed the following Scouters to assist him and Camp Director Covey for the 1934 season:

Purchasing department, J. Dwight Rogers, Mineola, and E. R. Shute, Floral Park; leadership and training department, Dr. E. C. Smith, Woodmere, and N. S. Standish, Baldwin; publicity, Robert W. Sykes, jr., North Bellmore; building and equipment department, Albert Gray, Old Westbury, and A. Alfred Valentine, East Williston, and health, safety and sanitation department, Dr. Arthur D. Jaques and John J. Denning of Lynbrook.
