Winter Camp.

The second winter camp conducted by the Nassau County Council will be held Dec. 27 to Jan. 1, at Camp Wauwepex, Wading River. A number of applications have been received and as the cold weather comes on more boys have asked for information about the winter program. The camp committee has been active for some time in making the necessary preparation to keep the Scouts warm during their stay at camp.

It is planned to roof the hospital building which was built last summer and to provide additional sleeping quarters in the Museum Building, and to remodel the mess hall so as to provide warmth while eating. A number of the leaders who were at camp this past summer will be there again during the winter months. The camp will be in charge of the council's field executives, Hazen A. Ross and Clayton S. Ingison, as well as many of the junior leaders.

Many Sports.

Skating, snow shoeing and sliding will occupy most of their leisure time, while the long evenings will be filled with camp fires, indoors and story telling contests. The New Year's Eve program, which provided such enjoyment last year, will be repeated with numerous additions. A number of troop committeemen have signified their intention of being present, including William F. Drury, of Mineola. The Scouts are looking forward to some real winter weather so as to make the program one of fun and enjoyment.
