

Nassau Has Good Camp.

The Nassau County Council can well be proud of its Boy Scout Camp. Twenty pioneer scouts arrived at Camp Wauwepex, Wading River. The following Saturday found the camp ready for the Scouts. In the course of the week, railings were erected on every tent platform. A hospital building was constructed to provide adequate shelter and comfortable surroundings for sick Scouts. The Pioneer Squad also put up the tents, set up the handicraft department, the forestry division, the swimming floats and got the camp in shape to receive the Scouts.

A new addition has been made to the mess hall and a hot and cold water system has been installed in the kitchen. Dishes and cutlery have been supplied so that mess kits are no longer necessary.

The camp improvement this year has been more extensive than ever before. A great deal of credit is due to H. A. Intsman, of Oceanside, chairman of the camping committee, and to Carl Stedman Brown, president of the board of directors, and his associates.
