

CAMP WAUWEPEX ENDS ITS SEASON

200 Nassau Scouts Return to Homes From Wading River.

Wading River, Aug. 30.—Camp Wauwepex, the Nassau County Boy Scouts camp, has completed its 13th season. More than 200 Scouts and Scouters have returned to their homes throughout the county.

The last week of camp was crowded with the numerous activities which each year mark the closing days of this reservation. More boys attended camp this year and greater progress was made by the individual scout than during any past season, according to F. Howard Covey, the director.

The camp closed officially Saturday evening with Chief Covey's annual banquet to his staff. Thomas R. Keating, of Woodbury, made a special trip to officiate as master of ceremonies. The guests included:

Carl Stedman Brown, of Baldwin, president of the council; Justice J. Dwight Rogers, of Mineola; George W. LaCour, Floral Park; Lucien J. Stanley, Rockville Centre, chairman of the camping committee; Dr. E. C. Smith, Woodmere, county commissioner; John J. Denning, Lynbrook; Joseph R. Fierling, assistant executive; Donald Cunningham and Robert Cunningham, Lynbrook; Charles Trinkaus and Earl Hicks, Rockville Centre; William Sipperly, Westbury; Albert DeClue, Hempstead; Drs. Arnold Treitman and David Feingold, of the camp medical staff; Wesley LaCour, Floral Park; William Ryan, Valley Stream; Gordon Brion, Floral Park; Thaddeus Greb, Johnston, Pa.; Lewis G. Feller, Orlando, Fla.; Walter Dilg, Woodmere; Justin Neuhoff, Baldwin; Phillip Trinkaus, Rockville Centre; Justin Star, Cedarhurst; Robert W. Sykes, Jr., Timothy D. Sykes and Jordan Sykes, Bellmore; E. J. Edward Denning, Lynbrook; Francis M. Sturge, Hempstead; Elliott W. Mangam, assistant camp director; Herbert Grace, quartermaster, Wading River; Benjamin Gammage, Virginia; William Englis, Garden City; Cristy Thompson, Glen Cove; Horace Rogers, Mineola; Gerald Sealy, Lynbrook; Milton Porter, Garden City; Dudley Haff, Hempstead; John A. Dilg, Woodmere; John Derounian, Mineola; Furman Stanley, Rockville Centre, and Lane Covey, of Great Neck.