

Banquet Closes Wauwepex Season

Wading River—Camp Wauwepex ended its 22nd season Saturday with a banquet to 45 officers and several guests, prepared by a Pioneer Squad of 16 Scouts chosen for their outstanding work during the camping season here.

Program at the dinner, arranged by Camp Director F. Howard Covey, Great Neck, included musical selections, the exchange of small presents among the officers, and short talks by members of the camping committee.

Among the Pioneers who prepared the banquet and who also remained after the close of camp to prepare Wauwepex for the Winter were: Jack Murphy, Rockville Centre; George Younger, Port Washington; Richard Perley, Port Washington; Buell Smith, Hempstead; William White, New Hyde Park; Morton Yuter, Hempstead; Marc Kirchner, Great Neck; Murray Goldstein, Lawrence; Seymour Rosman, Hempstead; Peter Behrendt, Great Neck; George Hammelman, Hempstead; Lawrence Mendelson, Lawrence; Sam Finlay, Port Washington, and Fred Geib, Bellmore.
