

Roslyn—The two camps operated by the Nassau County Council of the Boy Scouts of America were awarded excellent ratings by the National Council. Camp Wauwepex, located in Wading River, received a rating of A-100 for the second consecutive year. Onteora Scout Reservation at Livingston Manor in upstate New York received an A-99 rating. About 2,000 Boy Scouts from Nassau County are camping in these two areas. The annual analysis reviews the program, administration, commissary facilities and safety of the campsites.