

NO DAMP SPIRITS among the Boy Scouts and their leaders who recently spent a cold and snowy week end at Camp Wauwepex, Wading River, when Scout Executive Irving Southworth directs some hikes. At right, Harvey, mascot of Roubin Troop 1, leads big-camers, Jack Anthony and Ogleth Smith.

Boy Scouts, Snow Team Up for Sport at Wading River
(Newsday Photos by Melham)

Throughout the nation on Sunday, Feb. 11, the Boy Scouts start the ball rolling in their down-to-earth food raising campaign. In Camp Wauwepex at Wading River, on north shore of Suffolk County, the year's donated dollars will be more improved and expansion of the 400-acre camp. It is next year round by 20,000 boys and leaders of Nassau County Council.

WHEN DAY IS DONE food fixing is relaxing sport for, left to right, Morgan Whelan, Jack Harris, assistant scoutmaster and Robert H. Walsh, scoutmaster of Hempstead Troop 11, as they sit around warm fire. At right, outdoor fire bakes a pie for, left to right, Harvey, mascot of Roubin Troop 1, Thomas Hayes, Hempstead Troopmaster, and Charles Mason of Troop 165, Hempstead.

SNOW OR NO, Kevin Cahill of Troop 113, Westbury, can always enjoy fishing from the dock at the camp's lake.

Newsday