

NASSAU SCOUTS ON JOB FOR VACATIONS • START TOMORROW

Many to Go to Camp Wauwepex at Deer Pond, Wading River.

(Special to The Eagle.)

Rockville Centre, L. I., July 11—
Boy Scouts of Nassau County are preparing for vacations at the Camp Wauwepex at Deer Pond, Wading River, Long Island. This camp is conducted by the Nassau County Council, Boy Scouts of America, for Scouts in Nassau County.

The first period begins on Saturday and ends on the 26th of July; the second period of encampment begins on the 26th and continues for two weeks; the third and last period ends on August 23.

The camp site is a 600 acre tract of woodland which surrounds Deer Pond. The use of the property has been granted to the Scouts through the courtesy of William K. Vanderbilt and Harry Payne Whitney.

The lake is surrounded by deep woods, making it ideal for a Scout camp, and salt water bathing is also available. The boys will live in regular army squad tents with wooden platforms and sleep on regular army iron cots.

The camp will be under the direction of F. Howard Covey, who has had broad experience in directing boys' camps. I. F. Southworth will be assistant camp director. A one-time Rocky Mountain ranger he will have charge of Scout craft.

Camp Adjutant and Quartermaster Willard G. Waters has had three years experience in scouting in Nassau County. Ray L. Novarine will be swimming instructor. Dr. George F. Adair of Lynbrook will have charge of camp sanitation. Nature study work will be under the supervision of Dr. Reginald G. Harris, director, of the Biological Laboratory of Cold Spring Harbor. Forestry work will be under the direction of Henry Hicks of Westbury and Henry B. Raymore of Freeport.
