At Wauwepex With the Campers

—The outpost section of Camp Wauwepex, Wading River, the council camp of the Nassau Boy Scouts, is designed to fill the demands of the older boys in Scouting. Scouts registered this week at the outpost are Hugh C. Orth Jr., director, Rockville Centre; Ed Geer, assistant, Valley Stream; Leonard A. Arnold, Farmingdale; Thomas Dugan, Rockville Centre; Stanley Morcakowski, Hicksville; Peter Voorneveld, Syosset; Jack Rainear, Valley Stream, and Peter Fisher, Rockville Centre.

Another section of the camp, the land ship of the Sea Scouts, is arranged for another group of older boys in the Scout organization. Officers aboard the ship now are Skipper Wray Landon and Mate William Travis, both of Great Neck, and members of the 1935 National Sea Scout Flagship Tarpon. The crew consists of Gerald Becan, Hicksville; Al Leiman, Cedarhurst; Art Klages, Long Beach; David Sills, Laurelton, and Warren C. Hooker, Floral Park. A regular ship's routine is kept and all events are recorded daily in the log of the S. S. S. Albatross.

Registration Gains

Each week the registration of Scouts in the main camp gains. The figures this year have passed those for 1929, peak year in the history of the camp.

At a recent council fire ceremony, which is held every Friday night, William Benzer of Bellmore, who received four merit badges and his Eagle badge, was the outstanding Scout of the evening. For the first time this year two Scouts, Sam Pierce of Glen Cove and Lewis Murray of Oyster Bay, were awarded their Bronze and Silver Palms.

Seek Odd Jobs—Members of Troop 176, Oyster Bay, want to go to camp this Summer but its funds are sufficient to send only eight of the 20 in the troop. Scoutmaster John Johnson announces this week that boys between the ages of 12 to 17 will be willing to do odd jobs for the residents of the North Shore village in order to finance their annual trip.
