ELEMENT OF COMPLETE SURPRISE KEEPS
"ZORRO" SERIES ALIVE WITH SUSPENSE

Complete surprise -- the most important weapon in Zorro's one-man campaign against evil -- provides suspense in all "Zorro" shows including the "Zorro Saves A Friend," segment to be aired over station ____ on _____ at _____ p.m.

The series, starring Guy Williams in the title role, is produced by Walt Disney Studios.

Zorro is a man of swift action. One moment a victim of cruelty seems hopelessly caught in the toils of a vicious commandante's armed forces, the next Zorro has personally solved the situation.

His means are not always the same. His other weapons may differ. But the surprise is there, stunning in its swiftness, sure in its success.

Physically, Zorro's tools of mercy are a swift black horse he rides by night, the fastest sword in Southern California, a whip and a knife.

But none of these could serve alone against the many soldiers of Monastario, (BRITT LOMOND) military dictator of Los Angeles and environs. Only confusion born of terrifying suddenness -- thunderous attack and lightning retirement -- can be the right recipe for liberation.
