

From: Dick McKay
Publicity Director
Walt Disney Productions

First Year ZORRO-TV #11

Prod. 5861

MASKED RIDER HAS "DOUBLE"
TROUBLE ON THE "ZORRO" SHOW

Zorro, the masked champion of the oppressed, thwarts a villainous attempt to discredit him in "Double Trouble For Zorro," fast-moving _____ episode of the Walt Disney's series over station _____.

The avenger resorts to both his foppish Don Diego role and the night-riding guise to successfully defend the true character of the night rider. This he must do because his antagonist, Capitan Monastario (BRITT LOMOND), directs a slayer to masquerade as Zorro and rob and beat the commandant's dinner guests, thus disgracing the elusive man in black.

The masquerader, Martinez (TONY RUSS), however, is unmasked and outfought when the real Zorro suddenly appears.

"Double Trouble For Zorro" was written and directed by Norman Foster. Featured are Gene Sheldon as Bernardo and Henry Calvin as Sergeant Garcia. Also seen in the cast are Elvera Corona as Pilar Fuentes and George Lewis as Don Alejandro.